SDSCA Pre Conference Workshop

Creating Options for Growth by Preparing Brains and Bodies to Learn presented by Judith Norman, MA, MS, LSC, LPC, RPT-S

Thursday, April 25, 2024

8:00am-2:00pm

6.0 Contact Hours

Synopsis of Presentation: Does it ever feel like you're doing all you can and not seeing the desired results? If so, you are not alone. Educators, school counselors, and clinical mental health professionals are all experiencing frustration and stress. Why? Students aren't ready to learn, social-emotional programming is missing vital pieces, and many of our interventions inadvertently create escalation and are unsuccessful in shifting behavior.

Spend the day exploring solutions.

- Learn to recognize when students are not in brain or body states conducive to learning and what to do about it based on neuroscience.
- Learn to implement minor shifts in daily routines that support developing social-emotional wellness and self-regulation skills.
- Learn how to create options for new behaviors by understanding why a specific strategy might or might not work at that moment, facilitating the use of the right strategy at the right time.

Help expand windows of tolerance, which grows the capacity for dealing with stress and challenges for students and adults in and out of the classroom. Join us for a transformative day.

Cost:

SDSCA or SDMHCA Member- $60

SDSCA or SDMHCA Student or Retired Member- $60

Non-Member- $75

Speaker Information: Judith is an educator, trainer, coach, and clinical supervisor. She is a co-founder and the lead trainer at the Synergetic Education® Institute. She is licensed as both a Professional and a School Counselor and has worked at the intersection of education and mental health for over 20 years. Judith trains clinical and school-based mental health professionals and speaks and consults internationally on creating trauma-informed schools. As a District-Wide Social Emotional Learning Coach Judith led her school district in implementing a Kaiser Permanente "Thriving Schools Grant," aimed at advancing social-emotional wellness and behavioral health in school districts. Judith is a Registered Play Therapist Supervisor and is a Certified Synergetic Play Therapy® Supervisor and Teacher. She is a Parent Educator, Certified in EMDR Therapy, and is trained in Mindfulness in Education. She has been utilizing the tenets of Synergetic Play Therapy® in educational settings for the past 10 years. Her experience has led to the development of social-emotional, trauma-informed programming to support students and educators in schools. Judith Founded the Braindrops Play Therapy Wellness Center where she synthesized trauma-informed practices with child clients, family education and support, along with Rhythmic Movement Training. In her words, "Co-Founding the Synergetic Education Institute is a coalescence of all that feels purposeful to me, I'm inspired to have the opportunity to share what I love."
